of the old Russian empire. This vast sum had been in the possession of the Bolshevik!, and part of this gold would have been transferred to Germany in accordance with the supplements of the Brest-Litovsk treaty. At the same time these forces, under Col. Lebedeff, captured a large quantity of silver, securities and other valuables, all of which was forwarded by the colonel to the directorate of five, chosen at the congress of Ufa and sitting at Omsk. Col. Lebedeff was sent to this country by the congress of Ufa. His recent military experiences have been entirely on the Volga front, where month after month, waiting for aid from the ailles which failed to come, he and his forces struggled against superior numbers, but

Are You In the Position where you can follow the advice of those merchants that preach pay cash, even if they themselves don't? If so, all's well and you can quit reading this right now; but if the demands on your purse for necessaries and special expenditures on account of the holi-days are more than your purse can stand, then read on. To begin with, I want you for a regular customer; therefore, I make it my business to see that my merchandise is all right. Secondly, I want your friends to buy of me, too, so I am particular about the styles being all they should be. There is no use saving that my prices are right—if they weren't I couldn't stay in business very long. Now, where I differ mostly from the other fellows is that I am just as anxious to extend you credit as I am to se'll you for cash. Just a little each week, every two weeks or months, is entirely satisfactory with me. You will find everything the stylish woman wants to wear at my shop, and a lot of nice things for
